How Simple Payment Methods Can Recruit International Students to Your University

July 14, 2021 - As students returned home in 2020 during the early months of the coronavirus pandemic, institutions quickly adapted to new curriculum delivery methods. However, other activities, such as recruitment, were slower to respond because the process of attracting new students often relied on in-person events.

Meanwhile, consumer behaviors were starting to shift with an overall decline in discretionary spending and an increased reliance on digital connectivity. As a McKinsey article at the time noted, Google searches for “data plan upgrade” increased fourfold. For universities, providing a better online experience became the difference in retaining students and losing those who decided to postpone or stop their studies.

Now, more than a year after the world was thrust into its new normal, students are expecting better online experiences, including streamlined application processes and online services. With that, there is also an expectation of simple ways to pay tuition and fees, especially for international students.

BANNER STUDENT AID

A Banner Student Aid Quarterly meeting was re-imagined and kickstarted on May 26th, 2021 to relaunch a previous BSA organization that discussed issues and prioritized enhancements for BSA with Ellucian. This community often had quarterly online and on-site events.

Currently, members are connecting and sharing ideas on a dedicated teams group.

If you are interested to find out more in advance and/or willing to lead one of the sessions, please get in touch!

Many thanks to Sandra Farrell (Dalhousie University) and Cheryl Richardson (University of Manitoba) for taking the lead with this group for our Canadian counterparts.
